

Best of the Big A

Your guide to Atlanta's best food, festivals, events and weekend fun

Best cheap eats

August 16, 2010, by Shane Harrison

The 'Original' Barker's Red Hot- a charcoal-broiled red hot topped with Barkers Famous hot sauce, chopped onion and pickle, with fresh onion rings. Photo: Becky Stein / Special

OUR PICKS

1) Barkers Red Hots

Food and beverage writer Bob Townsend says, "Barker's charcoal-grilled hot dogs should be widely celebrated as one of metro Atlanta's great bargain bites. The 'original' red hot, $2.79, is a classic Sahlen brand pork and beef dog covered in sweet-and-spicy red relish sauce, with chopped onions and a dill pickle sliver."

2) Lee's Bakery

3) Grecian Gyro

4) Fellini's Pizza

5) Which Wich?